

Huber Capital Launches Diversified Large Cap Value Fund

Award winning institutional manager adds third fund to family

LOS ANGELES, CA, January 11, 2013 – Huber Capital Management, LLC, the $2.1 billion (Jan 11, 2013) asset management firm founded and led by Joe Huber, announced today that as of December 31, 2012, it added a new large cap value mutual fund to its line-up. The firm has managed the award-winning Huber Small Cap Value Fund and Huber Equity Income Fund since 2007. Both funds won Lipper Awards in 2012.

The latest offering, Huber Diversified Large Cap Value Fund (HUDIX, HUDEX), complements its existing large cap fund by focusing on larger market cap companies vis-à-vis the Russell 1000 Value index – generally $5 billion market cap and higher at time of purchase. The Fund will also broaden the number of names in the portfolio to a range of 40 – 80 versus its more concentrated brethren. Huber believes this strategy will satisfy the more specific needs of certain institutional and retirement plan investors as well as larger Registered Investment Advisors (RIA)..

“Our goal in launching the Diversified Large Cap Value Fund is to provide investors with exposure to a specific segment of the U.S. equity markets in a more diversified portfolio that will still allow us to drive alpha via our best ideas. Given the larger market cap and increased number of holdings, we will be able to manage more assets in this fund than our more capacity constrained Equity Income Fund,” said Joe Huber, CEO and CIO of Huber Capital Management.

Prior to founding Huber Capital Management, Joe Huber was an investment portfolio manager, Principal, and Director of Research at Hotchkis & Wiley overseeing more than $40 billion of US value portfolios. The investment research process utilized at Huber Capital is one that Joe has continuously refined throughout his career.

“At Huber Capital, we have a singular investment process that can be applied to various equity market cap segments,” Huber explained. “Our deep value investment process is rooted in fundamental bottom-up research that relies on heavy forensic accounting and seeks to exploit inefficiencies created by irrational investor behavior.”

Huber Funds are available via Schwab, Fidelity and TD Ameritrade as well as other custodial platforms.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Both Funds may invest in foreign securities which involve political, economic and currency risks, greater volatility, and differences in accounting methods. The risks are greater for investments in Emerging Markets. Additionally, both funds are subject to concentration risk, meaning they may concentrate their assets in companies within the same or related industry. Therefore, the Funds are more exposed to volatility within that industry than a fund that was not concentrated. The Small Cap Value Fund will invest in smaller companies, which involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility than large capitalization companies. The Fund may invest in Initial Public Offerings (IPO) which carries additional risk such as market and liquidity risk.
